LEARN MORE ABOUT THE PEOPLE FEATURED IN OUR REPORT AT HELPFBMS.ORG/FY17ANNUALREPORT
On February, 28, 2017, we lost our very own Mother Theresa. Sister Miriam Patrice McKeon, a co-founder of Father Bill’s & MainSpring and a lifelong advocate for the voiceless, passed away at the age of 88.

In the early 1980s, Sister Miriam was part of the original group of interfaith leaders, along with Father Bill McCarthy and the Rev. Adolph Wismar, who stood up with great courage to make sure people experiencing homelessness had a safe place to stay, leading to the creation of Father Bill’s Place in Quincy. She served on our board of directors for many years.

We’re certain Sister Miriam is with us as we begin every board meeting with a prayer for guidance and support. Though she is missed deeply, her unwavering belief in God and her strength in the face of adversity live on through the people she inspired and the countless people she helped.

Compassionate. It might be the most commonly used word to describe the network of employees, volunteers, and donors who serve as the heartbeat of our mission to prevent and end homelessness in Southern Massachusetts.

But there’s another word that’s often overlooked, but equally as important, which describes Father Bill’s & MainSpring’s (FBMS) efforts to ensure the long-term health and stability of our communities. That word is: cost-effective.

At FBMS, we’re providing innovative solutions that improve the lives of our neighbors — and at significant savings to the taxpayer. In this report, you’ll read three stories that demonstrate how our upfront investments brought hope to individuals and families, while also producing public cost savings.

On a larger scale, we have made progress with our strategic plan goals, all of which come with long-term economic benefits. Our new family programs model is helping more families end, or avoid, their homelessness; we’re creating more permanent, supportive housing; and our community relations program has helped inform the public about our ambitious plan to reduce the need for emergency shelter by opening a Housing Resource Center.

Our ability to achieve these goals is only as strong as our support system, and we’re grateful to have a group of forward-thinking doers at our side. We hope we can continue to count on you to help strengthen our neighborhoods, one life at a time.

Sincerely,

John Yazwinski

FY2017 accomplishments

In FY17, FBMS served 6,653 people in cities and towns across Southern Massachusetts.

Housing
- FBMS managed 472 permanent, supportive housing units across Southern Massachusetts (total has grown to approximately 500 units in FY18)
- 330 households moved from homelessness to housing

Shelter & Basic Needs
- 2,713 people (adults and children) were sheltered
- 217,230 meals were served to community members in need, mainly through volunteer power

Homelessness Prevention
- FBMS diverted 341 families from having to enter shelter
- 96% of households assisted by the Tenancy Preservation Program remained housed

IndiViduals & FamiLies
- Sheltered 1,904 individuals total, averaging 224 individuals per night
- Individual shelter stays of 6 months or more decreased by 12%
- 375 individuals exited shelter to housing or other systems of care
- 190 individuals sheltered were veterans, 209 individuals were 60 or older, and 133 individuals were young adults (18-24)

People Secured Jobs
- 82 veterans served by FBMS in FY17
- 346 people secured jobs

For Tenancy Preservation Program only: Attleboro, Fall River, New Bedford, and Taunton.
LAST SPRING, LUELLA AND HER BEDRIDDEN HUSBAND ARTHUR, WHO IS LEGALLY BLIND AND SUFFERS FROM KIDNEY DISEASE, PROSTATE CANCER, AND DIABETES, WERE ON THE VERGE OF HOMELESSNESS.

The retired Stoughton couple faced eviction because they could no longer afford their rent ($1,600) while also contending with Arthur's medical bills. Their crisis escalated when Luella’s car suddenly broke down, and she needed to pay to get it fixed so she could continue driving Arthur to his dialysis treatment.

After Luella had reached out to various people for assistance, their case was eventually referred to Father Bill’s & MainSpring (FBMS). Luella, who had already started packing up her apartment, said she was driving to church one night last spring when she received a call from FBMS President & CEO John Yazwinski.

“He said you and Arthur don’t have to worry about anything. You’re going to have a place to stay,” Luella remembers. “He said ‘you’re not going to be put out,’ and he meant it, and he was right.”

FBMS' Tenancy Preservation Program paid Luella and Arthur's rent while working with the Stoughton Housing Authority to try to find the couple a more affordable apartment. This process took about three months, during which the couple was able to remain in their apartment.

“We would have wound up in a shelter somewhere. We would have been homeless because we couldn’t pay that rent anymore,” Luella said.

In fiscal year 2017, FBMS prevention and diversion programs helped 341 families avoid shelter. The Tenancy Preservation Program, which assists disabled individuals and families facing eviction, helped 96% of the households it served remain housed.

In September, Luella and Arthur moved into a more affordable apartment in Stoughton. Unfortunately, their relief was short-lived. Luella, who had been feeling ill for weeks, was rushed to the hospital and later diagnosed with leukemia. She underwent chemotherapy and remained hospitalized for six weeks.

“IT’S GOING TO BE ALL RIGHT. I THANK GOD. I'M JUST GOING TO KEEP ASKING FOR LENIENCY. I KNOW GOD IS GOING TO MAKE A WAY FOR ME TO HANDLE THESE THINGS.”

Luella, 68, and her husband were on the brink of homelessness before Father Bill’s & MainSpring’s Tenancy Preservation Program stepped in to help.

PREVENTION PROGRAM HELPS STOUGHTON COUPLE AVOID SHELTER

While living at the hotel, Lucie, a nursing assistant, started working more hours at both of her jobs so she could afford first-and-last month’s rent for a new apartment. “I had to work more, with no days off some weeks. I had to feed the kids,” she said.

But looming for Lucie was a May deadline in which she had to either pay her outstanding storage fees or else her family’s belongings would be sold off by the storage company. That’s when she made a phone call to Father Bill’s & MainSpring (FBMS). The agency offered to pay $750 to cover Lucie’s storage fees so she could use her savings to move her family out of the hotel and into a new apartment. “This is the first time in my life I’ve ever received help because I’ve always worked,” she said.

Lucie inherited her work ethic and perseverance from her mother, who raised 12 children on her own after Lucie’s father passed away when she was only 10 years old. Lucie said her time staying in a hotel last year was difficult, but she said it helped tremendously knowing that her family’s belongings were secure and her kids had a roof over their head. “God blessed me,” she said. “I was able to work and I didn’t have to stay on the street.”

MICHAEL NEVER FELT LIKE HE FIT IN. AS A CHILD HE ATE IN EXCESS TO FEEL BETTER, AND AS HE GOT OLDER HE TURNED TO ALCOHOL TO HELP "FILL THE VOID," AS HE DESCRIBES IT.

Michael's addictions, symptoms of his underlying depression, eventually took control of his life, leading to lost jobs, broken relationships, various stints in detoxes, and stretches of homelessness in his 30s and 40s.

But Michael's life today is much different than it was just three years ago. For starters, he's no longer homeless; he has lived in permanent, supportive housing managed by Father Bill's & MainSpring (FBMS) since May 2015.

Also in the rear view mirror are Michael's regular trips to the ER after he would drink too much and pass out in public.

Michael's comeback started in late 2014 when he returned to Father Bill's Place in his hometown of Quincy for yet-another stay at the emergency shelter. This time, he decided to make some changes.

"Thank God for Father Bill's because I had nowhere else to go," said Michael, sporting a nice sweater, freshly combed hair and a big smile. "I'm grateful they gave me shelter and food and everything else I needed at that point."

With the help of support staff at Father Bill's Place, Michael qualified for Pay for Success funding, which connects chronically homeless individuals who rely on costly emergency resources with permanent housing.

Michael, at 47 years old, is finally starting to feel like he fits in. While giving a recent tour of his new home, Michael was confident and gregarious as he chatted with visitors about his roommates' cleanliness and his excitement about the ongoing revitalization of downtown Quincy, which he can see through his dining-room window.

"I see the progress that I have made. Every step is getting better. I'm so grateful I have the housing I have," he said.

Though he still struggles with depression and his eating habits at times, Michael has made a lot of progress with his alcoholism. He meets regularly with a stabilization worker from Father Bill's & MainSpring, he sees a therapist, and he eventually would like to get back to work.

"I'd like to work in a field where I give back somehow," he said.

ONCE CHRONICALLY HOMELESS, QUINCY MAN FEELS REVITALIZED

SAVINGS: $15,080.97 PER YEAR

Michael, 47, is grateful to have his own room and his own set of keys after years of homelessness.
