FOOD SERVICE TRAINING PROGRAM

“I’ve learned a lot of responsibility. It’s helping me rebuild my life.”

- Kelly, FoodWorks participant

FoodWorks is Father Bill's & MainSpring's food-service, job-training program for individuals currently, or formerly, experiencing homelessness.

Participants are paid to work in our Quincy and Brockton shelter kitchens, helping prepare and serve hot meals, clean dishes, and maintain a kitchen.

Upon completion, FoodWorks employees possess the skills and experience needed to start working for a restaurant, hotel kitchen, food supplier or shelter.
