Gwendolyn Whigham, a Behavioral Health Community Case Manager at Brockton Neighborhood Health Center, joined FBMS’ Board of Directors during fiscal year 2018. Gwendolyn, a former guest of MainSpring House in Brockton, overcame homelessness, addiction, and domestic violence to become a leader in her community.
FY2018 accomplishments

In FY18, FBMS served 5,797 people in cities and towns across Southern Massachusetts.

HOMELESSNESS PREVENTION
- 366 families avoided shelter due to Prevention/Diversion programs
- 96% of families assisted by Tenancy Preservation Program remained housed

SHELTER & BASIC NEEDS
- 2,661 people (adults and children) were provided emergency shelter
- 220,553 meals were served to community members in need, mainly through volunteer power

HOUSING
- 345 households moved from homelessness to housing
- 99% of FBMS tenants stay housed at least 1 year

INDIVIDUALS
- Sheltered 1,911 individuals total, averaging 233 individuals per night
- 401 individuals exited shelter to housing or other systems of care

FAMILIES
- 256 families were sheltered, including 420 children, averaging 128 families per night
- 64 families ended their homelessness and moved into housing

PEOPLE SECURED JOBS
- 66 people secured jobs

VETERANS SERVED BY FBMS
- 354 veterans served by FBMS

Fiscal year 2018 began on July 1, 2017 and ended June 30, 2018
Father Bill’s & MainSpring (FBMS) is seeing a significant increase in the number of elderly facing a housing crisis. Over the past 5 years, the number of elderly (ages 60+) coming to our emergency shelters in Quincy and Brockton has increased by 52%.

We’re seeing more elderly, many on fixed incomes, being priced out of their homes as housing costs continue to rise across our region. And as a growing number of rest homes and other systems of care close their doors in Massachusetts, organizations like FBMS are filling the gaps to provide refuge, housing, and hope to our elderly.

Richard (pictured at left), a Marine Corps veteran, just wants to live out the rest of his days comfortably in his own space and with his service dog, a pug named Black Jack, by his side.

Richard, who is 81 years old, suffers from depression and a number of serious physical ailments, including asthma, prostate cancer, and an aortic aneurysm. He is unable to work and relies on his monthly Social Security check for income. Last year, this led to Richard becoming homeless after he couldn’t find an affordable apartment.

While at Father Bill’s Place, our emergency shelter in Quincy, FBMS staff helped Richard access veteran benefits he was entitled to and was able to get him housed at Montello Welcome Home Again, FBMS’ newest permanent supportive housing development in Brockton.

The apartments at Montello Welcome Home Again are among the more than 500 permanent supportive housing units currently operated by FBMS for formerly homeless individuals and families. Adding more housing is a key part of our agency’s strategic plan. In total, 99% of FBMS tenants remain housed for at least 1 year and 93% remain housed for at least 3 years.

After six months staying at Father Bill’s Place, Richard and Black Jack moved into their new apartment at Montello Welcome Home Again. Richard can rest easy knowing that he and Black Jack have a safe, supportive place to call home.

As more elderly continue to seek housing assistance in our community, we’re fortunate to have supporters like you making sure our most vulnerable neighbors get the help they deserve.

SEEKING COMFORT

Finding an apartment that's not only affordable but also accessible can be incredibly difficult for someone living with a physical disability. It's especially challenging with limited income.

Thanks to you, Father Bill's & MainSpring (FBMS) is able to provide supportive and accessible services to make sure nobody with a disability is sleeping on the streets.

Our programs have helped people like Maria, who at the age of 40 was in a terrible motorcycle accident that altered the course of her life. It resulted in her having most of her left leg amputated, forcing her to rely on crutches to walk.

For more than a decade, Maria was able to remain relatively independent despite her disability. That changed last year when Maria and her 13-year-old granddaughter, Breidy, of whom she has custody, became homeless when they couldn't find an affordable apartment that was accessible for her disability. They abruptly left their previous apartment because the structure was unsafe and Maria felt her health was at risk.

That's when FBMS stepped in to help. Maria and Breidy (pictured at left) moved into a first-floor room at the Evelyn House, FBMS' congregate family shelter in Stoughton, where they stayed for nearly 3 months and received support from FBMS staff.

In January, she and Breidy moved into a first-floor apartment that she can easily access on her crutches. FBMS connected Maria to state funding she was eligible for, allowing her to pay her first month's rent and security deposit, and to buy new furniture that helped her and Breidy feel comfortable in their new home.

The name of the mother in this story has been changed to protect her family's privacy.

SEEKING SAFETY

No man, woman, or child should ever have to live in a home where they feel threatened.

Thanks to your support, FBMS was able to provide safe shelter to more than 500 domestic-violence survivors during fiscal year 2018.

FBMS helps people like Samantha, who knew it was time to leave her boyfriend last year when he verbally degraded her and threatened her with violence. Samantha and her two young children, ages 2 and 1, fled for help.

The state placed Samantha and her kids in an emergency family shelter operated by Father Bill's & MainSpring (FBMS). While there they received safe shelter and support. FBMS helped connect her with funds to enroll her kids in daycare, helped pay for her classes to become a certified nurse's assistant, and developed a plan to exit shelter and find permanent housing.

Every day, families come to our doors at FBMS with a unique set of challenges. As part of our strategic plan, we have begun implementing a new family track that aligned our resources to create a homelessness prevention and diversion team.

This track is creating better outcomes for families, meaning fewer entries into emergency shelter, shorter shelter stays, more exits to housing and employment, and improved retention of housing.

A STABLE PATH FORWARD

Becoming homeless can be a particularly devastating experience for young adults. While many their age are exploring interests during these formative years, young adults (ages 18-24) experiencing homelessness are far more focused on their survival, worrying about where they’re going to sleep and eat.

Father Bill’s & MainSpring (FBMS) is helping individuals like Sadel, who was 20 years old when he moved into the MainSpring House shelter in Brockton in the winter of 2018. Sadel, who spent 7 years in foster care as a child and suffers from post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), had nowhere to live after he had a falling out with his family.

Upon entering shelter, Sadel (pictured at left) worked with FBMS staff to get into our special youth protocol, which includes a private room and individualized case management tailored to his specific needs. This quiet, supportive setting is especially important for young adults experiencing homelessness, many of whom have a history of trauma and a lack of family stability.

FBMS staff has helped Sadel, who has a part-time job, develop important life skills that he wasn’t taught growing up. He has set up a bank account and has started saving money, and he’s searching for a counselor to help treat his PTSD.

Last fall, with the encouragement of FBMS staff, Sadel enrolled in classes at a local community college, where he is pursuing a degree in human services. In addition, he’s coming up with a plan to eventually leave shelter and live on his own.

“The staff here, they really motivate me,” Sadel said. “They act like my family when I’m here. They are my family when I’m here.”

Thanks to a recent state grant, FBMS has been able to expand its services to ensure positive outcomes for young adults entering shelter. The $300,000 annual grant, awarded by the state’s Executive Office of Health and Human Services, provides funding for emergency housing, additional staff, and flexible funds for young adults.

During the event, FBMS recognized Sue Beaton and the Fireman Foundation for their extraordinary contributions to FBMS, which helped Andrade, a formerly homeless mother, attend college and land her dream job.
DONOR SPOTLIGHT

Father Bill’s & MainSpring (FBMS) has always been able to count on Charlie Drea.

Charlie and his family are the owners of Conway Insurance Agency. He started donating to FBMS when our organization was founded in the early 1980s. At the time, Charlie was business partners with the late Jack Conway, who along with his wife Patti helped found FBMS.

“You see people out on the streets, waiting for something good to happen—and you just feel for them,” Charlie said.

He and his wife, Sandra, have many blessings in their lives and they feel it’s their personal responsibility to help those who have less than them. Besides FBMS, they also contribute to other local organizations that help people in need.

In addition to their financial gifts, Charlie and his wife regularly donate in-kind items off of FBMS’ Wish List, helping direct more resources toward our critical services.

He also has leveraged his business network to help raise money for the agency. For example, he’s a member of the Abington Rotary, which, thanks to Charlie, has become a strong supporter of FBMS’ mission to end homelessness.

Thank you, Charlie, for being a leader in your community and a true champion for our mission!
